Sponsored by the National Institute For Dispute Resolution and the National Association for Mediation in Education An invaluable staff and program development tool. The research references, discussion topics, training modules, and applications provide educators with a strong foundation for skill building and program development. I highly recommend this training manual to educators who are planning conflict resolution programs in their schools.

Paul Wiley, principal, Crocker Elementary School, Amherst, Massachusetts

Based on material developed by the National Institute for Dispute Resolution (NIDR) and the former National Association for Mediation in Education (now merged with the NIDR Youth Program), this practical resource guide shows educators how to diagnose conflicts, handle difficult confrontations, and implement appropriate mediation and problem-solving strategies.

"How to Handle Difficult Parents" is a funny, but practical, guide to working effectively with parents and avoiding unnecessary conflict. Whether you're a teacher (regular or special education) or a coach, this book will give you practical suggestions regarding what to say and how to say it to parents who question your lesson plans, challenge your disciplinary decisions, or threaten to tell the principal on you. Bringing years of experience as a teacher, principal, superintendent, and professor, the author shows teachers how to handle the most difficult parent types, including the Helicopter Mom, the Caped Crusader, Ms. "Quit Picking on My Kid," The Intimidator, No Show's Dad, and Pinocchio's Mom, among others.

Emphasizing ways to help create constructive conversation, the revised edition of "How to Handle Difficult Parents" is a must-have for teachers everywhere, both those just beginning...
Conflict is part of everyday life, especially in today's schools. Tools for Conflict Resolution: A Practical K-12 Program Based on Peter Senge's 5th Discipline presents an ideal method for teaching conflict resolution skills to students in kindergarten through twelfth grade. O'Keefe and Stewart believe that if each student is given tools for handling conflict and these tools are used each time conflict arises, students will learn to be proficient conflict managers.
