A mirror is no ordinary object—its capacity to reflect light and our own image back to us has the power to transform the way we perceive ourselves and the world around us. In this book, Mirror Mirror on the Wall, do I see the real me?, Jennifer Aster Bierman explores the mirror as a metaphor for the self, using the poem's structure to ask the reader to reflect on their own experiences and thoughts. Through her thoughtful and evocative verse, Bierman invites the reader to look beyond the surface, challenging them to question their assumptions and prejudices and to consider the deeper layers of their own self-awareness. This book is a powerful reminder that the mirror is not just a tool for vanity, but a gateway to self-discovery and growth.
